 NANOVIZZ

Founded in 2018 by Dr Debbie Stokes, NANOVIZZ is a unique combination of expert scientific consultancy services with a microscopy-inspired online retail store. Perhaps an odd combo, but it makes for an interesting mix of activities & experiences!

NANOVIZZ is delighted to provide support for commercial & academic purposes, via a range of consultancy services, such as scientific project management, technical or scientific writing, editing, etc. We're open for discussion about whatever is needed

In the NANOVIZZ online store you will find a range of items; art prints & much more, all based on microscopic images. The aim is to bring the wonders of microscopy to a wider audience

Our latest collaboration is with award-winning microscope artist Karl Gaff, offering a large collection of stunning limited-edition fine art giclee & canvas prints

NANOVIZZ is also the official partner to the RMS, supplying a select range of RMS merchandise, with proceeds supporting the Society's Microscope Activity Kits for schools. Products include T-shirts & canvas prints based on past entries to mmc micrograph competitions
